What's new at the New England Public Policy Center

The New England Public Policy Center is pleased to announce the release of two new reports. Copies of each report are available at the Center's web site: <http://www.bos.frb.org/economic/neppc/>

The Lack of Affordable Housing in New England: How Big a Problem? Why Is It Growing? What Are We Doing About It?

Alicia Sasser, Bo Zhao, and Darcy Rollins. May 2006.

Provides new region-wide data on and new measures of the extent of the affordable housing problem in New England. Finds that while rental housing is generally affordable in the region, owner-occupied housing is often unaffordable, even to middle-income homebuyers. The problem has grown worse over time and is particularly acute in southern New England. Also uses research literature to identify likely causes of the problem and summarizes state and local efforts to address the issue.

The Challenge of Energy Policy in New England.

Carrie Conaway, April 2006.

Analyzes current problems in ensuring the reliability of New England's energy system. Argues that maintaining the region's fuel diversity, reducing demand, improving incentives for infrastructure investment, and streamlining the infrastructure siting process are all critically important for a sound energy future for New England.

These reports, and more, are available free of charge on the NEPPC web site:

Consumer confidence data for New England are collected by the Conference Board in conjunction with the Conference Board's overall U.S. confidence series, and are evaluated on the same basis. Statistics for both the United States and New England are indexed to the U.S. average for 1985. Mass Insight adjusts the Massachusetts figures to be generally comparable to the Conference Board figures. Consumers' assessments of their present situation and expectations about the future are components of the overall consumer confidence index.

Note: For each state, the table shows general revenues (including all taxes and fees) and the two historically largest sources of tax revenues. These revenues are preliminary estimates generated by each of the New England states and are unaudited and subject to revision. For all states, the "Income Tax" column reports revenues from the individual income tax. Rhode Island and Vermont refer to this category as collections from the "personal income tax." Maine uses the term "individual income tax" collections. Annual totals are for the July through June fiscal years. For example, FY2003 is the sum of collections for the 12 months from July 2002 through June 2003.

Total bankruptcies represent the number of business filings (Chapters 7, 11, 12, and 13) plus the number of consumer or personal filings (Chapters 7, 11, and 13). The American Bankruptcy Institute compiles and distributes these data, which are initially released by the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts.

New England Public Policy Center

at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston

The New England Public Policy Center is a policy research group at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Directed by Vice President and Economist Robert Tannenwald, the Center is dedicated to improving the quality and accessibility of analysis on economic policy issues affecting New England. Topics of concern include economic development, housing, energy policy, health care, public finance, and regional economic conditions.

New England Economic Indicators is among the Boston Fed publications produced by the Center. Others include policy briefs, research reports, and working papers.

The Center sponsors conferences and other events to help educate legislators, analysts, the media, and the public on regional policy issues. The Center wants to bring together analysts from around the region to create a stronger network among policy researchers and advisors.
