New England Public Policy Center

at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston

The New England Public Policy Center is a new policy research group at the Federal Reserve Bank of Boston.

Directed by Assistant Vice President and Economist Robert Tannenwald, the Center is dedicated to improving the quality and accessibility of analysis on economic policy issues affecting New England. Topics of concern include economic development, housing, energy policy, health care, public finance, and regional economic conditions.

New England Economic Indicators is among the family of Boston Fed publications now produced by the Center. Others include Update New England, Fiscal Facts, and Regional Review.

The Center expects to produce policy briefs, research reports, and other publications and to sponsor conferences and other events to help educate legislators, analysts, the media, and the public on regional policy issues. The Center also looks forward to bringing together analysts from around the region to help create a stronger network among policy researchers and advisors.

**Because of an unusual surge in exports of production platforms in the first quarter, the third-largest destination of Maine's exports during 2004 was actually Brazil (not Singapore), and the third-largest exporting industry was transportation equipment (not forestry products).

Note: For each state, the table shows general revenues (including all taxes and fees) and the two historically largest sources of tax revenues. These revenues are preliminary estimates generated by each of the New England states and are unaudited and subject to revision. For all states, the "Income Tax" column reports revenues from the individual income tax. Rhode Island and Vermont refer to this category as collections from the "personal income tax." Maine uses the term "individual income tax" collections. Annual totals are for the July through June fiscal years. For example, FY2003 is the sum of collections for the 12 months from July 2002 through June 2003.
